

A Message from Dr. Edward Abraham and Dr. Jackie Travisano

Dear Colleagues,

We are writing to notify you that Mary Beth Briscoe has resigned her position as chief financial officer of UHealth – University of Miami Health System effective March 13, 2020.

Mary Beth has served as an integral part of the team working on our Five to Thrive initiatives, particularly with regard to finance and the strong financial performance of UHealth in the last two years. We thank Mary Beth for her contributions and wish her the best in her future endeavors. A search for her replacement will commence immediately.

We remain focused on our goals of providing exceptional patient care, educating and training the next generation of physicians, and making innovative discoveries that impact our community. Thank you for your commitment to our students, patients, Health System and the University of Miami.

Sincerely,

Edward Abraham, M.D.
Executive Vice President for Health Affairs
CEO, UHealth

Jacqueline A. Travisano, Ed.D.
Executive Vice President for Business and Finance
Chief Operating Officer
University of Miami
